REASON FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Gavrilovich (US Pat# 4,484,030) teaches a method and apparatus for identifying faulty communication circuits by tracking the number of unanswered calls placed on certain trunk(s) or trunk groups in order to determine the quality of service provided by network elements.

A method for assessing the quality of service of telephone calls on a trunk in a telecommunications system, comprising:

Identifying telephone call sequences including a plurality of telephone calls placed on the trunk occurring at different times during a sample time period, each of the telephone calls in the sequence having the same originating telephone number and the same destination telephone number, each of the telephone calls in the sequence having a start time and a stop time and an elapsed time between the stop time of a telephone call and the start time of the next telephone call in a sequence, the elapsed being less than a predetermined amount;

Counting the number of identified telephone call sequences;

Identifying unanswered reattempted telephone calls including telephone calls placed on the trunk occurring at different times during the sample time period, each of the telephone calls having the same originating number and the same destination telephone number and placed in a sequence wherein the telephone call placed from the originating telephone number is not answered at the destination number;

Counting the number of identified unanswered reattempted telephone calls; and Forming a ratio between the number of identified unanswered reattempted telephone calls to the number of identified telephone call sequences such that the ratio provides a measure of the quality of service of telephone calls on the trunk as claimed and substantially connected in claims 1-5.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
